

International Recoveries

Our experience within the debt collection industry has shown us that the majority of our clients find international collections difficult. Many issues give grounds to such complications, including language, time zones and local laws to mention a few. In response to this growing need, we have established ourselves as a specialist agency for international collections. A number of our staff are multi-lingual and our letters have been translated in the most widely spoken languages. Our team is also trained in international tracing methods which aids the pursuit of your subjects.

Local Expertise

Our extensive experience in the international debt recovery industry has also enabled us to develop a comprehensive portfolio of reliable agents in many key countries worldwide. If we are unable to collect the monies owed, we may enlist the assistance of these agents. They have the advantage of local knowledge, a thorough understanding of the specific legal systems and are able to attend the given property if necessary.

We will manage the bridge between our agents and yourselves ensuring that regular updates are provided.

Our extended services are offered on a 'No Collection, No Fee' basis with no upfront charges. Unlike other agencies, we do not add our agent's fees to our own charges. In an effort to supply a complete and thorough service, our agent's fees are consumed within our own charges in the interest of keeping your costs to a minimum.

Through our combined efforts we have the capabilities to achieve excellent success rates in countries where basic infrastructure allows.
